Dr. Pierce's Favorite Prescription,

Is not a secret or patent medicine, against which the most intelligent people are quite naturally averse because of the uncertainty as to their harmless character, but is a medicine OF KNOWN COMPOSITION, a full list of all its ingredients being printed, in plain English, on every bottle wrapper. An examination of this list of ingredients will disclose the fact that it is non-alcoholic in its composition, chemically pure glycerine taking the place of the commonly used alcohol, in its make-up. The "Favorite Prescription" of Dr. Pierce is in fact the only medicine put up for the cure of woman's peculiar weaknesses and ailments, sold through druggists, that does not contain alcohol and that too in large quantities. Furthermore, it is the only medicine for woman's special diseases, the ingredients of which have the unanimous endorsement of all the leading medical writers and teachers of all the several schools of practice, and that too as remedies for the ailments for which "Favorite Prescription" is recommended.

A little book of some of these endorsements will be sent to any address, postpaid, and absolutely free if you request same by postal card or letter, of Dr. R. V. Pierce, Buffalo, N. Y.

Don't forget that Dr. Pierce's Favorite Prescription, for woman's weaknesses and delicate ailments, is not a patent or secret medicine, being the "Favorite Prescription" of a regularly educated and graduated physician, engaged in the practice of his chosen specialty—that of diseases of women—that its ingredients are printed in plain English on every bottle-wrapper; that it is the only medicine especially designed for the cure of woman's diseases that contains no alcohol, and the only one that has a professional endorsement worth more than all the so-called "testimonials" ever published for other medicines. Send for these endorsements as above. They are free for the asking.

If you suffer from periodical, headache, backache, dizziness, pain or dragging down sensation low down in the abdomen, weak back, have disagreeable and weakening, catarrhal, pelvic drain, or are in distress from being long on your feet, then you may be sure of benefit from taking Dr. Pierce's Favorite Prescription.

Dr. Pierce's Pleasant Pellets the best laxative and regulator of the bowels. They invigorate stomach, liver and bowels. One a laxative: two or three a cathartic.

Bridge Whist Players Fear Big Exposures.

The horrid judge who fined Mrs. J. L. Harsha, of Beaver Falls, $5 for gambling, because she had won money from another Beaver Falls favorite in a game of bridge whist, has sent a tremor through the ranks of the bridge whist devotees in this city.

To be sure, in the Beaver Falls case, the mother of the victim made a complaint, but most of the Philadelphia victims have mothers, too, and there is no telling when a bad loser will begin to tell tales out of school and complain to the courts about the quiet little games that are going on every day in the sacred atmosphere of Philadelphia's fashion belt.

"I am fond of the game," said Mrs. T. Hollingsworth Andrews, yesterday; "but I am opposed to it on principle, and I have the same objection to church fairs, grab bags and other polite gambling devices for separating the public from its money.

"I have seen woman go away from the card table almost in a state of collapse," chimed in Dr. Andrews, who was naturally interested in the physiological effect of the game. "They are too nervous to play it. Bridge whist is not for their general health. Then, two, many women are not in a position to lose $20 or $30 every time they sit in a game. This idea of exchanging money is very repugnant to Mrs. Andrews and myself.

"Are the stakes high in Philadelphia? They are exceedingly high. I once heard a supposedly refined woman remark upon leaving a house:

"'Well, I am out $20, and I had a damned poor dinner to boot.'"

"Yes" said Mrs. Andews, "and I have seen a woman go upstairs to get 40 cents that she had lost to some man. Debts of honor, they call them. It's ridiculous. That a man or woman either could accept the hospitality of a host or hostess and depart from the house many dollars richer is incomprehensible to me. Then, too, there is the practice of giving checks and borrowing among the players, which gives rise to bad feeling.'"

Cigarettes and liquors have come to be regular features of bridge whist, and many a young girl has learned to smoke and drink at the bridge tables.

Considering the hold that bridge has got on "society" here, it is prehaps not remarkable that its friends are afraid that some one will follow the example of the Beaver Falls mother and "peach."—[Philadelphia North American.

Charges Against Magistrates.

The grand jury in New York yesterday began an investigation into the reports that have been current, and some of which have been published, that a certain police magistrate had been taking bribes for discharging persons accused before him of serious crimes. District Attorney Jerome went before the grand jury with the case himself. He declined to give the name of the magistrate suspected and also refused to admit that the grand jury was holding such an inquest.

According to the rumors that were current, one of the most prominent of the city magistrates is accused of taking $1,000 for discharging at least two persons connected with a large robbery case that involved the charge of receiving stolen goods. There was a report that the scope of the grand jury's inquiry would not be confined to any specific case, but would extend to the board of city magistrates in general.

The inquiry yesterday, it was asserted, also went into the report that a certain magistrate has been borrowing money right and left and has been giving checks in payment, many of which have come back marked "no funds."

It became known yesterday that subpenas had been issued for attendance upon the grand jury for Tuesday next, when the inquiry will be resumed. The proceedings yesterday were said to be of the John Doe character, but there is a rumor about the criminal courts building that during the testimony the name of the magistrate who figured in the larceny case was mentioned. It was after that that the rumor became current that the inquiry was to become general.

Love Found a Way Out.

Miss Jessie Vogel, daughter of Dr. G. B. Vogel, and Leo Hughes, eloped to Bristol yesterday. Soon after their departure the girl's mother telegraphed the Bristol police to detain the runaway couple. Miss Vogel was arrested and locked in a room of the St. Lawrence Hotel. The door was guarded by a policeman, and the girl's parents notified by wire. Mrs. Vogel at once started for Bristol, but just prior to her arrival, Mr. Hughes went to the door of the room in the St. Lawrence in which his bride was supposed to be held a prisoner, and notified the officer that he had been guarding an empty room, and that the marriage had occurred two hours before. Mr. Hughes secured a ladder and by this means Miss Vogel escaped from the hotel, and they were quickly married by Parson Burroughs.

Bars Nearer, My God, to Thee.

Bishop John J. O'Connor, of the Catholic diocese of Newark, has issued instructions to the pastors to the churches under his direction to discontinue the singing of "Nearer, My God, to Thee," and "Lead, Kindly Light," at church services. The bishop said "Lead, Kindly Light" might be sung in the churches after the conclusion of services, if the pastort saw fit to permit it, but under no consideration was "Nearer, My God, to Thee" to be heard in any church under his jurisdiction.

The bishop declared the law of the church did not permit the singing of any hymn that is not part of the liturgical service, and he added "Nearer, My God, to Thee" is no more a part of the service than is "In the Sweet By-and-by." The hymn is purely sentimental, while "Lead, Kindly Light", is an appeal for spiritual light.

SIC SEMPER TYRANNIS AND VIRGINIA ADVERTISER

SATURDAY EVENING, OCT. 20, 1906.

DETAILS of the devastation and loss of life wrought by the hurricane on the Gulf coast, Cuba and on the ocean in the vicinity of that island are now being received. While the estimates concerning the loss of life may not prove as great as now supposed, enough is known to show that death followed in the wake of the high wind and accompanying floods, and that several hundred persons have perished, while the property loss has been enormous. This convulsion of nature has followed closely after a similar disturbance at Mobile and other places near the Gulf coast, by which many persons were drowned and the damage to property enormous. The interval between the storms has been short. Horrors in the form of earthquakes, volcanic eruptions and storms in different sections of the world are becoming more numerous and there seems to be barely a week's interval between them.

THE BOSTON HERALD recently published a dispatch from London which said:

A feature of this year's American invasion has been the great number of visitors from the southern States. A few years ago hardly one American traveler in a hundred came from the South. At present about 8 out of 10 are from places famous in the records of the civil war. Shopkeepers much prefer them to the northern visitor. They are said to approximate more nearly to the English type, are not so self-assertive and are equally good business men and women.

The English are not the only ones to notice the difference between the people of the North and the South, and the comparisons are always in favor of the people of this section.

DRIVEN money mad by constant association with millionaires, ever hearing of opportunities that would have made them wealthy had they been anything other than clerks at $60 a month, two youths gave way to temptation and robbed the Union Trust Company, of Pittsburg, of which H. C. Frick and Senator Knox are directors, of between $125,000 and $500,000. The two boys, who had pleaded guilty, were called for sentence yesterday evening in the criminal court, and unfolded the complete story of their peculations and losses. So shocked was Judge Young at the lax method of the bank officials that he could scarce repress a smile at the discomfiture of Treasurer Gleffier, who was present.

THE VALUE of cotton exported from this country in the four years of depression, 1893-6, was $783,504,780. In the past four years it was $1,460,717,398. The value of the exported cotton nearly doubled; to be exact, the increase for the quadrennial period, after an interval of ten years, was $667,212,618. But a great deal of cotton is not exported; it is consumed at home, and its value increased in the same proportion. This enormous increase in the value of the leading crop, says the Philadelphia Record, is enough to explain southern prosperity, but then there are also the cotton mills, and the iron and steel works and lumbering and a multiplicity of industries.

PRESIDENT ROOSEVELT will send another of his cabinet to assist in the Iowa campaign. It was announced yesterday that Secretary of Agriculture Wilson will make two or three speeches in that State on what he "thinks about the republic." He has told the State committee to put him where he would do the least harm, otherwise, he knows nothing about the itinerary of his campaign. He will remain in Iowa to vote, and might remain there indefinitely—and the country would go right along.

WE HAVE received a copy of the 126th annual statement of the finances of the City of Alexandria, together with the department reports for the fiscal year ending May 31, the revenue and license laws and the official directory for the year 1906-7, all conveniently and interestingly prepared by the efficient auditor of the city, Mr. E. F. Price. The little volume contains much that is of interest to every citizen of Alexandria.

ACCORDING to reports Secretary Taft has again declined a place on the bench of the U. S. Supreme Court. The secretary is a presidential possibility, and outside of Roosevelt he seems to be the strongest man with the republicans.

From Washington.

(Correspondence of the Alexandria Gazette.)

Washington, Oct. 20.

The War Department this morning received four despatches from Brigadier General J. Franklin Bell, commanding the army of Cuban pacification, at Havana, regarding the effects of the recent storm. He says that the light shipping in the harbor was considerably damaged, 25 lighters having sunk at their wharves. The steamship Cubana, which arrived at Havana this morning, came into port in a very sorry plight, her foremast of steel having snapped off close to the deck. The Cubana was loaded with animals for the use of the U. S. army. Gen. Bell reports that 138 of these were either killed outright, or so badly maimed that it was necessary to kill them to prevent their further suffering. The condition of the shipping in the harbor is satisfactory in so far as it pertains to ocean-going vessels. Several of the lighters, which were loaded with cargo taken from the Ward Liner Morro Castle, were sunk during the storm, and Gen. Bell says it is not known yet whether or not these were loaded with U. S. property. Harry Fostick, a teamster of the 58th infantry, lost one eye, received a scalp wound and internal injuries and is not expected to recover. Frederick W. Sutcliffe, a civilian wagon master attached to the army, was severely wounded in the head, but will probably survive. Private William A. Harner, of the 18th battery of field artillery received an injury in the back by being struck by a falling tree. Not serious. These men are now in the Mercedes Hospital in Havana.

Fraud orders were issued this morning against the Highland Park Place Realty and Construction Company, of St. Louis, Mo., and the American Letter Company and Embossograph Company, New York. The St. Louis concern, according to the order, was engaged in a land swindle and the New York companies were working the old scheme of selling an outfit and promising work when the purchaser became expert in its use.

Following the proposal of President Mitchell, of the Georgia State Commission of the Jamestown Exposition, to have Georgia reproduced as her State building, Bullock Hall, at Roswell, the birthplace of President Roosevelt's mother, Martha Bullock, the President has written saying: "I need hardly say how much touched and pleased I am by these propositions to re-produce my mother's old home at Jamestown."

The rules and regulations for the enforcement of the food and drugs act, prepared by H. W. Wiley, Agricultural Department; James I. Gerry, Treasury Department, and S. N. D. North, Department of Commerce and Labor, were made public today. They stipulate that only harmless colors shall be used in confectionery and food products. Poisonous or deleterious preservatives are to be applied externally only and the Secretary shall determine the wholesomeness of the coloring matter or preservaitves. No dealer will be liable to prosecution if he can show that he sold the goods under a guaranty from the manufacturer or jobber. The rules require that the complaints shall be made to the Secretary of Agriculture. They do not apply to domestic meat and meat food products. It is declared that the regulations may be altered or amended at any time, without previous notice, with the concurrence of the Secretary of the Treasury, Secretary of Agriculture and Secretary of Commerce and Labor.

It was officially announced at the White House today that President Roosevelt will open the Jamestown Ter-centennial Exposition with a speech on April 26, next.

President Roosevelt this morning sent a telegram to Gov. Magoon, at Havana, extending to the people of Cuba the profound sympathy which this country feels for the misfortune which has befallen them. The President also sent a telegram of sympathy for the people of Florida through Governor Broward.

It was officially announced at the White House this morning after a call of Henry St. George Tucker, president of the Jamestown Exposition Company, that President Roosevelt will open the exposition on April 26 with a speech. Mrs. Roosevelt and the Roosevelt boys will go with the President to the exposition on that day. Mr. Tucker was accompanied to the White House by former Secretary of the Navy Hillary Herbert. Thirty years ago Mr. Coolidge's father bought the set and later presented it to his son.

The net earnings from operation amount to $18,868,299, an increase of $805,706. The balance of income over charges is shown at $5,299,065.

The net increase in rentals and interest, due in part to the sale of different bond issues, the purchase of part control of the Tennessee Central Railroad, and the increased interest on equipment obligations, is shown to be $562,925.

The Transylvania Railroad, leased on January 1, was among the properties acquired, and a majority of the capital stock of the Virginia and Southwestern Railway was bought, which assures the Southern of a direct line into the coal fields and iron districts of Southwest Virginia.

The increase in equipment obligations is shown to be $9,046,871.

An increase of 8 77 per cent gross earnings per mile of road operated over the previous year is shown by $7,274 in this report, as compared with $6,687.

To the higher cost of conducting transportation is due in part the increase of operating expenses, which exceeds that of the previous year by $2,615,435.

The maintenance of equipment caused an increase in expenditures of $1,131,715, and maintenance of way and structure an increase cost of $663,496.

THE CUBAN HURRICANE.

Twenty persons were killed in Havana by the recent hurricane, all Cubans of the poorer class.

The property loss is estimated at $2,000,000.

The velocity of the wind is officially reported to have been 80 miles an hour. About noon it was 120 miles in Havana.

LOSS OF A STEAMER.

The steamer St. Lucie, Captain Bravo commanding, has sunk off the Florida coast. One of the extension steamers arrived at Miami, Fla., last night bringing 60 injured, who were taken to the hospital, and it is said there are 28 dead bodies which will be brought up today. It is believed now that a portion of the Florida Fish and Produce Company's fleet was destroyed. Manager Adams sent out one of their boats yesterday morning to look for the men and boats and on their return they reported no signs of the fleet. The fishing nets were found strewn upon the shore.

The Red D line steamer Philadelphia, from Laguayra, Venezuela, for New York, arrived at San Juan, P. R., yesterday 48 hours late. Her captain reports that a Dutch steamer was lost in the tornado at a point between Curacao and Laguayra.

The Philadelphia encountered the tornado upon leaving the harbor at Laguayra on Monday. She was blown ashore and slightly damaged. This and the heavy weather accounted for her delay in reaching San Juan.

Twenty miles of railroad connecting Laguayra with Caracas have been totally destroyed by the storm, according to officers and passengers of the Philadelphia.

Open Letter to the Pope.

Catholics all over the world have been stirred by an open letter addressed to Pope Pius X, calling on the pontiff to open the tomb of St. Peter at Rome, and settle for all time the current gossip that if such a tomb exists it will be found to contain nothing.

For fifteen years or more there have been doubts in archaeological circles as to whether there is a tomb where the famous monument of Michael Angelo stands, and where Roman pontiffs for centuries have knelt in prayer before taking up the burden of governing the Catholic Church.

But no one has been bold enough to publish a letter calling on the reigning pontiff to excavate and so settle the doubts.

Marcellus, who wrote the letter, and is supposed to be a noted Italian archaeologist, declares briefly that there is no such tomb, or if such a thing exists, it will be found to have been desecrated.

This is said to be the belief of the foremost archaeologists of Europe.

Marcellus' letter has drawn no response from the Pope, but two of the most distinguished archaeologists in the Catholic Church, Prof. Marucchi and the Jesuit Father Grisar, declare Marcellus is wrong—that there is a tomb, and that the body of the first of the apostles is there.

Father Grisar and Prof. Marucchi, however, agree with Marcellus that the tomb should be opened, in order that the doubters may be convinced. The next move is watched with great interest by doctors of the church and Catholics at large.

Robbed the Bank.

Despite the efforts of the Union Trust Company, one of the greatest financial institutions of Pittsburg, to keep secret the facts of the robbery at the bank of between $125,000 and $500,000, the whole story came out yesterday afternoon when Clifford S. Hixton, who had pleaded guilty to having committed the robbery, were called for sentence. The story is one of the most remarkable ever heard in the court room, and when Harry G Clifford, the treasurer of the big bank, corroborated the story as told by Wray and Hixton, Judge James S. Young, who was on the bench, threw up both hands at the lax methods that had been used. Each of the boys were sentenced to serve ten years in the Western penitentiary, although two of the sentences are to run concurrently, which reduces the sentence to eight years. Wray told the way they got the money. He, as teller, would make out a deposit slip in the name of some former depositor whose account had long lapsed. It would pass through the hands of several brokers, and finally to Hixton, who would enter it. Then Wray would draw a forged check for the amount, and the check would afterward be destroyed by Hixton.

Mr. Miller was about sixty years of age, and was a member of a well-known Rockingham county family. He was a Confederate soldier. Ill health and worry over family affairs are assigned as the cause of his suicide. His daughter Lula was married in Washington two months ago to Ivan Nelson Kemp, of Dayton, Ohio. She left her husband several weeks ago and returned home. Mr. Miller had brooded over his daughter's marital troubles.

Drownings in Virginia.

While on his way yesterday to the home of his fiancee, Miss Fannie Lee, of Lees Mills, Fauquier county, young William S. Hunton, of New Baltimore, was caught in the swollen waters of Cedar Run and drowned. They were to have been married Sunday at Lees Mills. The accident occurred at Auburn, where fording is generally a simple matter, but the stream since the last rain had been converted into a torrent. It is presumed that the young man underestimated the force of the current in attempting a fording. A diligent search throughout the day was only rewarded by the recovery of the horse's body, on trace of the drowned man being found. Mr. Hunton was a cousin of Gen. Eppa Hunton, of Richmond.

A. C. Parker, "walking boss" for J. C. Zobrist & Co., of the Tidewater Construction, with an Italian known as Dick, was drowned yesterday about three miles above Bell Spring near East Radford. The river had risen about twelve feet and the pressure of the water broke the cable of a ferryboat in which Mr. Parker and two men were crossing the river. They jumped ont and attempted to swin to the bank, but only one succeeded.

Culpeper and vicinity during the past few days has been visited by heavy downpours of rain. Whole crops of corn in the shock, oats, wheat and hay in stacks were carried off by the floods. Early yesterday news was received at Culpeper that at the junction of the Rapidan and Rappahannock rivers, on the Spottsylvania border, a large farmhouse on a hill, with its inmates—men, women and children—was swept into the river, being carried down with the raging current some distance and landing upon a sandbar, where the inmates were rescued.

Suicide of Bishop Potter's Daughter.

Mrs. Lena Cowdin, daughter of Bishop Henry C. Potter and wife of Winthrop Cowdin, of New York, committed suicide at Hallocks' Sanitarium at Cromwell, Con., by hanging herself on Tuesday night. The utmost secrecy has been maintained regarding her death, and the fact that she had ended her life did not become known until yesterday afternoon, after the issuance of the death certificate by the town medical examiner, Dr. Bush.

Mrs. Cowdin had been a patient in the sanitarium for four weeks, suffering from melancholia. Her desire to have absolute peace and quiet resulted in the authorities of the sanitarium placing an entire cottage at her disposal, while several nurses were assigned to care for her.

She was given every attention that the position of her family would warrant, and only several days ago it was announced to her friends that she was on the road to recovery.

While the attention of her nurses was otherwise diverted on Tuesday night Mrs. Cowdin slipped quietly from the room in the cottage which she had been occupying and hurried to the cellar of the dwelling. There she adjusted a rope around her neck, tied one end to an overhead beam and let herself strangle. She was dead when the nurses found her.

Mrs. Cowdin was Bishop Potter's second daughter. She was 44 years old. Her husband is a wealthy wool manufacturer well known in New York social circles. They were married on November 4, 1886, while the bride's father was assistant bishop of New York.

Today's Telegraphic News

THE RECENT STORMS.

Havana, Oct. 20.—Contradictory reports continue to arrive in the offices of the various newspapers as to the extent of the damage wrought by Wednesday night's disaster.

According to the most reliable accounts obtainable today the list of dead and fatally injured in the city of Havana will be between thirty and forty, while the total casualties on the island will exceed one hundred dead and five hundred injured. All estimates at property losses are merely guesses so far, but the damage to shipping and business interests in Havana alone is believed to be upwards of $3,000,000. Estimates of the damage in the country districts are impossible, but the loss to the park and boulevard systems of the city is alone believed to be upward of a million dollars.

Luckily the American forces, both the soldiers at Camp Columbia and the sailors aboard the ships in the harbor, escaped practically unhurt. Several seamen were slightly injured while hastening to make things snug when the blow struck, and a number of soldiers received trifling hurts when the gale hit the camp, but only one fatal injury to a member of the American forces has been reported. Harry Fosdick, a teamster with the Twenty-eighth infantry, was crushed by a falling palm tree and will probably die.

It is rumored that there are one or two American civilians among the dead and that several have been injured, but their names are not obtainable at this time.

The American fleet suffered less than was at first supposed. Fortunately the Brooklyn struck no rocks, but simply stuck her nose into the soft mud on the east side of the harbor and was easily drawn off. Aside from the loss of several small boats and of their superstructures the ships of the American fleet were but little damaged.

Wednesday night in Havana beggars description. A sprinkle of rain preceded the wind, then came the whirling of dull laden clouds which seemed to almost settle to the house tops. With a distant rumble the storm charged on the city and then struck with a shrill whistle and swished along, its natural roar being accompanied by the crash of glass as tiles were lifted from roofs and hurled through windows of adjoining houses.

The air was filled with debris. Houses in the course of construction were torn to pieces as though made of straw.

The shacks in the poorer quarters were leveled like houses of cards, and it was here that the greater of fatalities occurred. In a twinkling the beautiful Prado, with its double row of magnificent shade trees interspersed with stately palms, was cleared, the trees, which were the pride of the city, falling like rows of dominos. In the Palace and Plazas similar scenes were enacted, and today Havana is a city almost barren of shrubbery.

Following the wind came a deluge of rain. It was a regular cloudburst. In five minutes the narrow streets were full and the water was in the stores on business streets. Half an hour after the rain had started Havana resembled a Venice.

Thousands of windows had been broken by the flying debris and houses which escaped unroofing by the gale were filled by the torrents which poured into the broken windows. Thursday morning the entire city was in a state of chaos.

Jacksonville, Fla., Oct. 20.—Conservative estimates now place the number of deed in Florida and off the coast as a result of Thursday morning's disaster at upwards of 500 souls. Property losses will reach upwards of a million dollars.

Jacksonville, Fla., Oct. 20.—The most appalling disaster so far reported is that at Elliott's Key, a little coral island 25 miles south of Miami, where the cyclone and resultant tidal wave combined to wipe out about 300 lives.

A gigantic sea, sweeping clean across the island, is said to have wiped out every one of the 250 inhabitants. The little steamer St. Lucia, the loss of which was exclusively told in these dispatches yesterday, was anchored on the lee of Elliott's Key and was smashed. Twenty-five of her company of 100 are known to have been drowned, a score are missing and many were picked up in the open sea while clinging to bits of wreckage.

A house boat anchored off the island and used as sleeping quarters for 150 laborers went down and to date only about one-third of the men have been accounted for. It is believed that all the others perished.

There is the best of reasons for believing that the fate of Elliott's Key has been the fate of a score little islands off the south coast peninsula. If this is so the present estimates of the number of dead will be found woefully low.

Key West, Fla., Oct. 20.—Forty-nine workmen from barge No. 4 engage on the east coast extension work were landed here by the Austrian steamer Jennie, bound from Gulf Port for Genoa, which picked the men up near the Bahama coast.

Shouts of distress from the water attracted the Jennie Thursday night. She put out her boats and picked up forty-nine men who had been floating on bits of wreckage.

Three other steamers came up, but it is not known whether they rescued anyone.

W. P. Duzenbury, one of the engineers in the party, says nine other barges were in the fleet with No. 4. No word has been received of any of them and it is feared they were lost. If so, then 100 more names must be added to the death list in the great hurricane.

Key West, Fla., Oct. 20.—Six hundred lives lost and $4,000,000 property loss is a conservative estimate of the damage caused by the great storm. Indications are that it will prove one of the worst disasters of modern times.

San Salvador, Oct. 20 —Great loss of life and immense property damage have resulted from a terrible storm which has raged here for ten days. The valleys have been flooded and all rivers are high over their banks. Buildings in various cities have been destroyed, in some cases burying their tenants. Bridges, aqueducts and houses which stood near to the banks have been swept away by the floods. Bodies of men and caracasses of animals were constantly brought down by the swollen streams. The loss is reported of the warship Izalco at Acajutla. Honduras and Guatemala have also suffered severely from storms.

Charleston, Oct. 20 —With barometer registering 29:37 inches and still falling at a late hour this afternoon conditions are becoming grave here and there is considerable fear that the city is to suffer a visit from the hurricane now circulated in this vicinity. Rain is falling and a 35-mile-an-hour wind is blowing. The tide is two feet above the normal. Many of the water front streets are now under water.

High Water.

[Special dispatch to the Alexandria Gazette.]

Richmond, Oct. 20.—The James river is 29 feet at Columbia, and is still rising. This means a flood here, and the lower section of the city will be submerged by night. Experts say that the record will be broken, as 30 feet is the highest ever known.

The Shenandoah river is also very high.

Boston, Oct. 20.—The Countess of Carlisle, who resides at Castle Howard, York, England, was today elected world's president of the W. C. T. U. The other world's officers were re-elected practically without opposition. They are: Vice president, Mrs. Lillian M. N. Stevens, Portland, Me.; honorary secretaries, Miss Agnes E. Slack, Ripley, England; Miss Anna A Gordon, Evanston, Ill.; president, Mrs. Mary Sanderson, Danville, Que. The election of a new president was necessitated by the fact that Lady Henry Somerset, of England, declined to serve again on account of ill-health. Mrs. Stevens, who was next in order of succession, refused to allow the use of her name and the honor therefore went to the Countess of Carlisle, who was president of England.

It appears from the story that Bazar, who has been paying attention to the buxom Hattie for some time, last night plucked up courage to ask her to marry him. Case Reopened.

As was stated in the Gazette, Daniel Hill was arraigned before the Police Court yesterday morning charged by Officer Young with transacting business without a license. He had been cited to appear under a city warrant. The evidence was to the effect that Hill, who represents a Baltimore tailoring house, visits this city and takes orders for clothes. He carries samples with him, and upon receiving an order sends measurements to Baltimore where the garments are manufactured; that he demands no deposits when the orders are taken, although it was shown that a Greek fruit dealer named Constantinople had paid him $5 on an overcoat ordered. It did not appear, however, from the evidence yesterday that such a deposit was required, but that it had been voluntarily tendered by the customer.

Justice Caton, in view of the facts then before the court, dismissed the accused, but it later appeared that the case had not been thoroughly sifted, and that Hill was violating both the city and State laws by not taking out licenses, as he was entering into competition with Alexandria tailors who pay the city $10:50 for the privilege of conducting business. It was also alleged that Hill required deposits on orders which fact would render him amenable to the license law. Commonwealth's Attorney Brent therefore swore out a State warrant against the Baltimorean, and he was cited to appear again in the Police Court this morning. The accused was represented by Mr. E. B. Taylor and Mr. Brent appeared in behalf of the State.

Mr. Taylor, who was also present at the trial yesterday, read certain decisions supposed to bear on such cases, and urged that his client did not desire to violate any law and, from his standpoint, he was engaged in nothing contrary to the license statutes. He accordingly asked that he be again dismissed.

Mr. Brent, however, was positive in his convictions that the accused should be required to take out a license, and in doing so reviewed the decisions referred to by Mr. Taylor, and read laws bearing upon the matter at issue.

Justice Caton in summing up the case said when the evidence was taken yesterday it was supposed that Constantinople paid $5 on his own volition, while the evidence this morning showed that this sum had been demanded from him by Hill. He, therefore, after having given the case more careful study was clearly of opinion that Hill should take out a license, if he proposed to continue business in Alexandria.

Narrow Escape of Train.

Three hundred lives were imperiled by the derailment of two parlor coaches on train 51, of the Chesapeake and Ohio Railroad, at South Capitol street and Virginia avenue, Washington, yesterday afternoon, about 4:15 o'clock.

The train was the regular Southern Express, due in Washington at 4:01 and which generally passed through Alexandria about 5 o'clock. It was about fifteen minutes behind time, and was speeding along at twenty miles an hour. On board were 150 veterans of the civil war, their wives and daughters, on their way to attend the exercises on Manassas battlefield this afternoon.

The sudden stopping of the train threw the passengers into a great state of excitement, and for several minutes they were bordering on a panic.

The train was made up of an engine and eight coaches, and only the second and third cars left the tracks. When the train was stopped the third car was jammed against a large iron girder, which borders the cause[way] and was badly splintered. The [car] plunged forward in the ot[her] Had the ironwork on [the bridge] at all weak the t[rain] ach would have [gone] , and probably [the whole train] have been p[recipitated] the ground.

The [prompt] emergency brak[es] ot come to a st[andstill] irty feet above the street.

The [injured] were lifted to a siding and after a delay of an hour and a half the train was resumed.

Rev. Dr. Devries of St. Mark's Church, Washington, and Rev. W. J. Morton, of Christ Church, will exchange pulpits tomorrow morning.

Cards have been issued announcing the marriage of Mr. Sheldon Spencer Foltz to Miss Lidia C. [illegible]afie, of Washington, which is to take place at Faith Chapel Presbyterian Church, on October 30th. Mr. Foltz is a former resident of this city, having been born and raised here.

In St. Louis, yesterday, at the concluding session of the American Bankers Association convention Mr. W. F. Lambert, of this city, was elected second vice president for Virginia.

Police Court.

[Justice H. B. Caton presiding.]

The following cases were disposed of this morning:

Daniel Hill, arrested by Officer Young charged with conducting business without a license, was directed to take out a license.

Lottie Ford, colored, arrested by Officer Beach charged with abusive language, forfeited her collateral by failing to appear.

Rose Kitts, colored, arrested by Lieutenant Smith and Officer Sherwood charged with abusive language, was dismissed.

Laura Ball, colored, arrested by Officer Henderson charged with abusive language, was dismissed.

John Payne, colored, arrested by Officer Smith on suspicion of stealing a gun, was turned over to the authorities of that county.

Requisition Papers Received.

Sheriff William H. Palmer, of Alexandria county, yesterday received from Gov. Swanson the requisition papers for the person of John Wright, alias Joseph Thomas, colored, who is now held in the District of Columbia jail, and who is wanted in Alexandria county for the murder of Jackson Boney, colored, for a felonious assault upon Forest Gooding, and for alleged criminal assaults upon Annie Green, colored, and Miss Mabel Risley. Sheriff Palmer carried the papers to Washington and placed them in the hands of the officials of the Supreme Court of the District of Columbia. It is probable that the question of Wright's return to Virginia for trial will come up in the next few days.

Proposal from Railway Company

A circular signed by General Manager Spencer, of the Southern Railway, is being sent out to the striking machinists, proposing that the machinists declare the strike off and return to work and submit the wage question to an arbitration of three men, one each representing the strikers and the company, respectively, and these to choose the third. The decision of the arbitrators, according to the proposition, is to govern the wage scale for two years. As was stated in the Gazette, the railway company made substantially the above proposition several days ago, but the machinists refused to return to work until a settlement was reached.

A Presbyterian Pastor.

At the meeting of the Bloomington presbytery at Minonk last Wednesday Rev. George L. Hunt, D. D., was received as a member of that body. He will preach his first sermon as a Presbyterian minister in the Presbyterian Church Sunday morning. At the same meeting Rev. D. S. McCaslin was elected a delegate to the Illinois synod, which convenes in East St. Louis on October 16th.—[Hooperston, Ill., Chronicle, Sept. 22.

Dr. Hunt was for a number of years pastor of the Baptist Church in this city, where he had a large number of friends.

Heavy Rains.

Torrential rains fell at intervals throughout last night. The temperature was sultry and at times the flaws of wind were heavy. The tides were high again last night and this morning, extending over portions of the Strand and almost to Union street at Prince and King.

The steamer Newport News arrived up from Norfolk this morning. She reports having experienced a rough time in the bay last night.

The weather has been cooler today with several heavy rainfalls,

Death of a Colored Resident.

John Credit, an old, well known and respected colored resident, died at his home on Royal street, near Wilkes, early last night. He had recently been paralyzed. The deceased was a native of this city, and had lived here all his life. Three score years ago, when the Gazette was a morning paper, he delivered copies to city subscribers. For many years he had charge of ice carts in this city. He enjoyed the respect of all who knew him. The deceased was in the 86th year of his age.

Charges of Abusive Language.

There were three cases before the Police Court this morning in which young colored women were charged with abusive language. One of the accused failed to appear and forfeited her collateral. The other two were dismissed. In the evidence one of the complainants said she had been called a "nappy head thing" by the defendant during a colloquy with her.

The Dog Came Back.

About a year ago a dog belonging to Mr. Luther Carter disappeared, and although diligent search was instituted its whereabouts could not be ascertained, and it was finally concluded that the animal had been stolen and taken out of the city. Yesterday the canine appeared at the front door of Mr. Carter's residence, on Henry street, between King and Prince.

Circuit Court for the County.

[Judge C. E. Nicol presiding.]

A verdict for the defendant was returned yesterday evening by the jury in the case of the National Cash Register Company against Frederick Davies, trustee, in which the plaintiff sought to recover five cash registers claimed to have been sold under contract to Bernard A. Dougherty, who conducted a restaurant at Luna Park. Another case growing out of the assignment of Mr. Dougherty at Luna Park was that of Mrs. Bernard A. Dougherty against Frederick Davies, in which it was claimed that part of the property taken possession of by the trustee belonged to the plaintiff in her own right. The jury returned a verdict awarding the property in question, valued at about $200, to Mrs. Dougherty.

The hearing of the application for a liquor license in Jefferson district was postponed till Friday next.

Court adjourned till Monday.

Arrival of the Circus.

Frank A. Rollins' big shows arrived this morning with their many cars of wonders. The show came from Brunswick, Md., where it gave two performances to two large audiences yesterday. The train was late reaching this city, due to a delay in the freight yards in Washington, which rendered it impossible for the show to give its street parade. The programme is a good one and has many new and novel features. Among those deserving special mention are the Herz troupe of trained stallions. The Tasmanian troupe of acrobats is another pleasing feature of this show. The bareback riding of the Rooneys is another thrilling incident. The seating arrangement is perfect. A good view of the show can be had from any part of the large waterproof tents. The doors will open at 7 o'clock tonight, the performance commencing an hour later. As a special free attraction Leonardo loops the gap before the doors are open.

The Caloric Paradox.

Freezing is usually associated with cold, but water can be frozen on a redhot plate. This pretty experiment has rightly been called the caloric paradox. If a drop of water is placed on a redhot or white hot metal plate it does not suddenly flash into steam under the influence of the great heat. It does not even boil. It simply evaporates quietly and slowly as it rolls about the plate. Now, suppose that the drop on the plate is a volatile liquid like sulphurous acid. It will evaporate, and this evaporation will produce cold. Let a drop of water fall in the sulphurous acid drop, and it will be frozen in spite of the heat. M. Boutigny thus froze water on a white hot platinum capsule. Faraday carried this remarkable experiment even further. Pouring some ether and solidified carbonic acid gas on a redhot platinum capsule, he formed a spheroidal mass which evaporated very slowly. He then brought some mercury into contact with it, and this was instantly frozen. Now, mercury requires a temperature of 40 degrees below zero to solidify it, and here it was frozen on redhot platinum.

A Restless Patch of Earth.

There is, near to the Thuringen summer resort, Traunsee, a curious and locally celebrated phenomenon—namely, the floating island which disports itself at will, now at this and now on that side of the Hautsee, a small and charmingly situated lake. The little island also has its own flora, varying from that on the immediately adjacent mainland, among which may be mentioned the "meat consuming" Drosera rotundifolia, while flowers and edible berries grow here in rank profusion and slender birches cast their shade over those who care to land and investigate this restless little patch of earth. Birds are especially partial to this spot, wild ducks and other aquatic birds breeding here in great numbers. But the great event of the year is the "Volksfest" held upon the island every Ascension day, when dancing and "bratwurst eating," washed down by the obligatory beer, is the order of the day.—Pall Mall Gazette.

They Joined Hands.

Mr. Rhodes once told a circle of friends after dinner the story of his first meeting with Beit. "I called at Porges' late one evening," he said, "and there was Beit working away as usual. 'Do you never take a rest?' I asked. 'Not often,' he replied. 'Well, what's your game?' said I. 'I am going to control the whole diamond output before I am much older,' he answered as he got off his stool. 'That's funny,' I said. 'I have made up my mind to do the same. We had better join hands.'" Join hands they did. Unlike Alfred Beit, Cecil Rhodes had small patience with arithmetical details. Once this characteristic involved him in a difficulty. Pitching a balance sheet into the pile of papers before Beit, he exclaimed desperately, "Here, you understand things. For heaven's sake tell me how I stand."

Petroleum.

The first mention of petroleum in America was made by Father De la Roche d'Allien, a Franciscan, in 1629. It may be a surprise to many people to know that both the product itself and the names petrol and petroleum were familiar at least as far back as the middle of the fourteenth century. In the Sloane manuscript (fifteenth century) mention is made both of rock oil and of the correct derivation of the name, which is mediæval Latin and of course has nothing to do with Peter: "Petroleum, oleum est factum de petra. G(alilee), petroille." ("Petroleum is an oil made from rock—in French, petroille.") The property of drawing fire had struck the imagination long before the work quoted in "Nature" was published. In 1596 Lodge used it in a metaphor: "As the clay petrol draweth fire, so the looks do gather affection." The word petrol (or petreol) disappeared from English and did not return until the days of the motor car industry, when it was reintroduced from the French in the sense of refined petroleum.

Duels With Pistols.

Discussing pistols as dueling weapons, the Paris Figaro sought the views of a man who had the reputation of an expert on the field of honor. He at once began to rail at duels with pistols. He could not bear even to speak of them. The fact was that he had once himself at an encounter of that kind received a ball in the shoulder.

"Then you disapprove of them simply because you were defeated?"

"Why, I was not defeated."

"What!"

"No; I was a second. You may well believe that I promised myself never to mix again in affairs of that sort. However, one day I had to accompany a friend on the field. He had asked it of me as a personal favor. I could not refuse. But I insisted upon one condition."

"What was that?"

"That I should climb a tree during the firing."

"A good scheme."

"You think so? Well, I was wounded again. My friend fired in the air!"

Soldiers In Battle.

"It is important to be cool and self possessed at the beginning of a fight," writes one who has commanded men in battle. "As soon as the first shot is fired men become serious and go into action with a calmness which is most impressive. High explosive shells, with their deafening noise, make the most impression on young and unseasoned soldiers, while shrapnel affects the old soldiers the most. Those who imagine that it is possible to see a heroic look on men's faces at a decisive moment are completely mistaken. Their faces are pale and have a hard look about them. The struggle which is going on within them betrays itself by the nervous haste of their firing."

Considerate.

Mrs. Dove—Henry, I think you are positively cruel. Here I've tried so hard to cook you a nice dinner and you haven't had a word to say to me about it. Mr. Dove—Darling, I love you too much for that. If I said what I thought, you'd never speak to me again.

Painfully Economical.

Husband—You are not economical. Wife—Well, if you don't call a woman economical who saves her wedding dress for a possible second marriage, I'd like to know what you think economy is?

Facial.

"Don't you think her face rather too thin?"

"Well, I don't know. I can't see any place where it's worn through. Can you?"—Puck.

The river Orinoco has more tributaries than any other river. The total number is put at 2,500, including 436 large streams.

A cold is much more easily cured when the bowels are open. Kennedy's Laxative Honey and Tar opens the bowels and drives the cold out of the system in young or old. Sold by W. F. Creighton & Co., 401 King street.

Human Blood Marks.

A tale of horror was told by marks of human blood in the home of J. W. Williams, a well known merchant of Bac, Ky., He writes: "Twenty years ago I had severe hemorrhages of the lungs, and was near death when I began taking Dr. King's New Discovery. It completely cured me and I have remained well ever since." It cures Hemmorhages, Chronic Coughs, Settled Colds and Bronchitis, and is the only known cure for Weak Lungs. Every bottle guaranteed by E. S. Leadbeater & Sons, Druggists 50c and $1.00. Trial bottle free.

Drop by drop the offensive discharge caused by Nasal Catarrh falls from the back of the nose into the throat, setting up an inflammation that is likely to mean Chronic Bronchitis. The certain, rational cure for Catarrh is Ely's Cream Balm, and the relief that follows even the first application cannot be told in words. Don't suffer a day longer from the discomfort of Nasal Catarrh. Cream Balm is sold by all druggists for 50 cents, or mailed by Ely Bros., 56 Warren street, New York.

JEWELRY.

Going Housekeeping?

If so, you can hardly get along without spoons, knives and forks. The silver-plated are without a doubt the most economical in the end. They wear longer, look better and cost very little more than the ordinary kinds. We can even supply silver-plated knives with steel blades.

Your sideboard is hardly complete without a silver set. Silver cake and fruit baskets should also be placed there.

A candelabra with will brighten the table considerably. After the spread has been cleared off a silver fern dish should be placed on the table.

The necessary things in cut-glass are the decanter, the berry bowl and the celery dish. In a great many homes the ice cream is served on cut glass plates.

On your dresser place a traveling alarm clock and a sterling silver or silver-plated toilet set, also a hat and clothes brush.

You will find plenty use of a number of small silver-plated trays. One has always so many trinkets to take care of.

There should be a jewel case on the dresser, if only for appearance sake. Over night it is a good place to keep the watch and Z—K Gold Chain.
